

Guaranteed 15%+ Cost Savings in Facilities, Supply Chain, & Technology

SolvingX is redefining operational efficiency for enterprise organizations. Backed by deep industry expertise and strategic partnerships with leading global suppliers and cutting-edge technologies, we deliver guaranteed, measurable cost savings — starting at 15%+.

Where and How Will SolvingX Deliver Savings?

1. Smart AI Technologies That Expose Hidden Costs — and Unlock Hidden Value

We transform facilities management through a suite of innovative platforms—including SpendWise and FacilX (developed in-house)—as well as integrated solutions from partners like ServiceChannel, Johnson Controls, and Sitelink (BIM Digital Twins). We're also leveraging a new AI-powered tool from our manufacturing partner to push the boundaries of operational intelligence.

By combining advanced AI with emerging technologies, these solutions monitor equipment health in real time, detect anomalies such as unusual noise patterns, and identify root-cause mechanical issues—often before failures occur. They also analyze spending behavior and energy usage to reveal inefficiencies and surface cost-saving opportunities.

The result: fewer unplanned repairs, improved asset uptime, and extended lifecycle value. With real-time insights into operations, costs, and risk, these platforms support smarter procurement, more accurate forecasting, and data-driven asset management.

2. Global + Local Supplier Ecosystem

From global leaders like Johnson Controls to regional and local experts, our supplier network drives down OpEx and CapEx across essential operational areas—including energy, facilities, supply chain, and workforce management.

3. Vendor Management Program

We streamline your vendor contracts, eliminate cost leakage, and establish structured governance. Working closely with your team, we embed lasting improvements and reduce risk across the organization.
